

Aleksandr Vasil'evich Nikol'sky

Concerto for Flute & Piano

Foreword by Louis W. Lewis

The Nikol'sky Concerto for Flute & Piano is a major work published in Russia in 1926. Now it is made available in a new edition. It goes from simple but beautiful folk-tune-like melodies to interesting technical challenges.

The range is from low B to E above high C. A flute with a low B, a C# trill key, a fine pianist and serious study are all that are needed to reveal the beauty and brilliance of this concerto.
